

[This is the last page of a longer letter addressed to Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi]

[He said it] like this: (Take him out of my sight, cut off his head, and rid me of him).

So, I left him and started begging for one of the military brothers, so he carried me with him to the medical [center]. While there, we were bombed with another missile that killed the security official of Salah al-Din, Abu Yasir. After the death of Abu Yasir, the morale Special Security [Forces] collapsed, and everyone fled under the pretext of transporting the wounded, so every 4 persons from the Special [Forces] carried one wounded person. From there, Abu Muslim carried me to Mosul. After I arrived, I was surprised by the presence of Abu Ra'ad, the security official, in the hospital, and that was around one o'clock in the morning. Abu Ra'ad shouted and attacked one of the brothers stationed in the medical [center] in Wilayat Salah al-Din Hospital, and he was in the emergency section, and may God have His mercy upon all of us.

O Commander of the Faithful, all that I have mentioned is a small part of what is happening in Wilayat Salah al-Din. I hope that you will send your trustworthy soldiers to investigate the grievances well, as the brothers want their rights.

Last but not least:

As for my request from you, O Commander of the Faithful, please protect me and give me safety, for if this information fell into the hands of one of those I spoke about, they would never leave me alive for a single minute. I ask you to intervene in the matter of my transfer to the Levant, specifically to al-Raqqah, my previous place of work. I do not want to stay in Salah al-Din at all, after the harm that I found there. This is my need, and I ask God, then you to help me. You will be asked about me on the Day of Resurrection, O Commander of the Faithful. I asked you, by God, to fulfill my request and not to deprive me of the land of Sham and its bounty. May God not deprive you of Paradise. May Allah reward you on my behalf and on behalf of the Muslims.

Please, if you receive this letter, send for me because this paper is not enough to carry my words. I am currently located in Salah al-Din Hospital in the Wilayat Ninawa.

Peace be upon you, God's mercy, and His blessings.

Yours truly and your soldier
